

2009-2010 PEACE AND SOCIAL JUSTICE STUDIES MINOR

(Minimum of five course credits)

A study of the causes of social injustice and violence, and of the conditions and practices necessary for establishing social justice, equality and sustainable peace in every dimension of human life and at every level of human interaction. The minor in Peace and Social Justice Studies requires a minimum of five course credits. Students interested in pursuing an Independent Major in this field of study should contact the director of Peace and Social Justice Studies to begin working on their proposal as early in their college career as possible.

Requirements

The following three (3) courses:

PSJ 100: Foundations of Peace and Social Justice	_____	1
PSJ 110: Conflict Transformation	_____	1
PSJ 205: Peace and Social Justice: Theories and Practices	_____	1

AND

Two (2) additional courses, chosen from the courses approved for Peace and Social Justice Studies credit, as listed in the Catalog & Student Handbook and Short Term Catalog and supplements.

____ : _____ _____
____ : _____ _____