

The Washington Center would like to announce a special summer internship program that provides students substantial financial assistance by means of federally-funded placements with the Federal Aviation Administration.

Selected students have the opportunity to intern during summer 2008 with the FAA. Students from certain majors are desired, including business, computer science, statistics, aviation, engineering and other related fields. Students of diverse backgrounds and students with disabilities are also encouraged to apply. Applicants must be U.S. citizens and able to receive a favorable background investigation. Students who are accepted into the FAA program will receive funding covering the cost of Washington Center program and housing fees, plus earn a weekly stipend of $250.

To apply, students must fill out an online application with TWC. Applications for this program will be reviewed on a rolling basis, so students are encouraged to apply as early as possible. The Washington Center will accept applications throughout the month of March. You can find a flyer with more details about this opportunity and other federal initiatives at http://www.twc.edu/students/federal_program.shtml. Students who apply to this program must have Dr. Rivers-Thompson's (Internship Coordinator) approval before participating
